

SPORTS PROGRAMS

"We strongly believe that sports is a great opportunity to build character. Working together in a team can be one of the most difficult challenges we face in our lives. Sports teaches us about hard work and how to follow through on commitments. By striving for excellence or to be the best, we learn to value input and criticism. We learn humility in victory and defeat. We learn to value every contribution, not just the star." Assistant Principal, Coach Peter Bevan

"Sports is a tremendous opportunity to learn character -- your ability to discipline your emotions will affect your work, your marriage, your parenting. Perhaps the basketball court is where God allows you to learn to do this." Post Star Article - Derek Bevan
